BETTY LOU WHITLOCK

Betty was born at home on May 7, 1932, in Eggen Coulee, Wisconsin. Betty was the fourth of six children. She had three older brothers and two younger sisters. Betty grew up in the town of West Salem, Wisconsin. Betty's father was a lineman for Northern States Power Company, and her mother was a homemaker. Growing up, Betty enjoyed baking with her mother, helping to take care of her younger sisters, and Sunday school. Family gatherings are some of Betty's happiest childhood memories. Betty graduated from West Salem High School. After high school, Betty went to vocational school for one year and earned a certificate in office machine operations, learning how to keypunch.

In 1952 Betty moved to Madison and started working for UW Systems. While living in Madison, Betty met her first husband at the Yak Dance Club. They were married for 20 years and had two children, Ray and Linda. When the children were young, Betty was a stay-at-home Mom. After the children were gone, Betty went back to working for UW Systems. Betty also worked some part-time jobs at Prange's and Imperial Gardens in addition to her job with UW Systems after her divorce.

On February 13, 1982, Betty married her second husband, Warren Whitlock. Betty and Warren had been classmates at West Salem high school. They reconnected when Betty returned to West Salem to help care for her sick mother. Betty gained a stepdaughter, Sheri, when she married Warren. After Betty and Warren married, Warren wanted Betty to retire and enjoy life. And they did for 24 years, visiting family and friends, traveling to Arizona, and creating wonderful birthday and Christmas memories. Betty enjoys her Hallmark movies, using her computer, listening to various types of music, and following the Badgers and Packers.

After being a widow for 16 years, Betty moved from West Salem to Waunakee to be close to her family. Her family now includes three step-grandchildren, four grandchildren, and eight great grandchildren. Her advice to the younger generation is, be kind, love one another, and have faith.

We enjoy having you with us, Betty!
